GEO. TINDAL ARRESTED AS A SUSPECT IN KALEY MURDER CASE

Well Known Character
Lives Near Scene
of Crime.

POLICE WILL NOT TALK

Detectives Charge Him
With Being Suspicious
Person and Lock
Him Up.

"George Tindal—Suspect—Arrested by Ryan and Brishin at 7:40," is what appears on the police register this morning.

The chief and the detectives who made this arrest are very reticent about the matter, refusing to give out any reasons why this man is being held.

It is thought, however, that Tindal is wanted in connection with the recent murder at the old cutlery shop on East Second street, where the remains of Len Kaley were found ten days or more ago.

Tindal was arrested at 7 o'clock, the two officers finding him in a saloon on Saxton street. He was searched at the police station, but had nothing but a pocketknife.

The home of Tindal's parents is located within a stone's throw of the place where the murdered man's body was found, but he did not make his home there. He was usually found at the home of Mrs. Retta Daugherty, who the directory gives as residing at 1221 East Ninth street.

He has not worked for a long time and was always regarded by the police as a suspicious person.

When one of the officers was asked concerning his arrest, Wednesday night the officer said, "Well, there has been so many hold-ups and other things reported recently that we thought it best to pick this man up and send him in."

Other arrests are expected to follow within a short time, for threats of evidence are being given together by the detectives and the chief, since the identification of the murdered man has been established.

That there was a Canton woman in the case is still the belief of the detectives, and with persistent work on the case they expect to land the murderers.

"BARON" ON TRIAL FOR DEFAUDING A WOMAN

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
Utica, N. Y., Dec. 15.—The trial of "Baron" Albin de Kossy, formerly of Schenectady, but latterly of Pittsburg, Pa., charged with fraudulently securing $25 on a postoffice money order at Saratoga Springs last summer, was commenced in the United States court here before Judge Ray late this afternoon.

Three witnesses were sworn by the government today, and they gave damaging testimony against the alleged nobleman who is accused of having impersonated a friend, Richard Schwartz, of Schenectady, by calling Schwartz's landlady on the telephone and requesting her to hurry $25 to him in Saratoga.

The woman responded promptly and the government charges that the baron got the cash by representing himself as Schwartz to the Saratoga Springs postoffice clerk.

RETAINED YEARS AFTER THEFT WAS DISCOVERED

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
New York, Dec. 15.—Sworn testimony given last week by Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss in the hearing of the affairs in the Phoenix Fire Insurance company brought out the unexpected information that Harry Stockwell, in charge of the company's Atlanta office and virtually in control of the large business of the company throughout the south, had been guilty three years back, of a defalcation of between $45,000 and $50,000 and had been retained in his position until last week, when the investigation convinced his superiors in the company that he would have to be ousted for the general good.

JILTED MAIDEN SOON SOUGHT CONSOLATION

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
New York, Dec. 15.—Miss Juliet Hero, the Greek girl who is suing Dr. Anabel Zelaya, nephew of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise, was cross-examined most of the day today in the trial of the suit before Supreme Court Justice Blachoff, and was somewhat surprised when Zelaya's counsel produced a package of her own letters to some one else.

She said she found another sweetheart after the young Nicaraguan left her, and she set as well as wrote a lot of letters.

MAN WEARING ODD OVERCOAT JAILED

A few nights after the murder at the cutlery works was committed a man who claimed to be a stranger in the city, was arrested for striking a man in the vicinity of the Grand hotel. When brought to the police station he carried a light colored overcoat, with brown stripes about three inches apart, running lengthwise of the material. This coat was a fine one, satin lined, with peculiar pockets sewed on the outside. It resembles the description of the one now missing murdered at the cutlery shop. The prisoner was released the next morning and has not been seen since.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE DINNER

Women Will Be Admitted to Banquet at the Courtland.

SEVERAL WILL SPEAK

The second annual Jacksonian banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club of Canton will be held at the Courtland hotel on Monday night, January 10.

It promises to be one of the biggest political gatherings in recent years and will be attended by many prominent Democrats, and there will also be a big list of speakers.

The committee has decided to admit women to the banquet, but the list of persons attending must be limited to 300, owing to the limited capacity of the banquet hall.

A committee on speakers is now working to get a number of good Democratic orators for the occasion and expects to announce the list in a few days.

FIFTEEN KILLED IN A WRECK

Southern Railway Train
Derailed, Plunging
Down Bank.

THIRTY-FIVE INJURED

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 15.—The four rear cars of Southern railway train No. 11 were derailed down a fifty foot embankment from Reedy Fork trestle, ten miles from Reidsville, N. C., this morning at 8 o'clock. Fifteen men were killed and thirty-five other passengers injured, some seriously. The cars that left the track landed in a small creek that flowed beneath the trestle.

The wildest scenes of panic prevailed as the passengers, many of whom had not arisen from their berths, attempted to escape from the cars amid a scene of death.

George Gould, the New York millionaire, who was enroute to his hunting lodge near High Point, N. C., and was a passenger on the train, escaped with practically no physical injuries, but his son, Jay Gould, Jr., was hurt and was hastened to a hospital in Greensboro, twelve miles from the wreck. J. R. Russell of New York, a companion of Mr. Gould, was injured in the back and neck and was taken to the hospital.

Among the dead are A. P. Cone, superintendent of the Richmond division of the Southern railway, and W. H. White, traveling auditor of the Southern with headquarters at Richmond. Both died shortly after being rescued from the debris before they could be carried to the hospital.

The scene of the wreck is two and one-half miles from a telegraph station.

As far as can be ascertained the cause of the wreck was a broken rail due to a concealed defect. No. 11 runs from Richmond to Atlanta southward.

At 8 o'clock tonight twelve bodies had been recovered and it is known that there are others yet buried in the debris. It is known that the number will reach fifteen, possibly more. The wreck was complete.

Let There Be No Empty Stockings In Canton

Many Policemen Would Lose Jobs If Rules Were Enforced Here

They Prohibit Drinking,
Sleeping on Duty, Visiting
Immoral Resorts.

Nine years ago, when James Robertson was mayor of Canton, a police manual was published. It contained in brief the ordinances of the city and a list of state offenses.

That it was published to enlighten the police on legal matters, rather than department, is shown by the fact that the police department isn't working by the book.

The book contains a lot of advice to new policemen and tells them how they should conduct themselves. It doesn't say anything about our muffs or black classes. They were added since the book was published, and it doesn't tell how many hours a policeman should sleep on duty. Nor does it tell them to turn their backs on crime, although this is understood.

The book of rules governing the police department says that "any member of the force is subject to reprimand, suspension, deduction from pay or dismissal, according to the nature and aggravation of the offense, for any of the following causes:

1. For intoxication while on or off duty—suspension or absolute dismissal.
2. Willful disobedience of orders.
3. Indecent, profane or harsh language.
4. Disrespect to superior.
5. Unnecessary violence to prisoners or citizens.
6. Sleeping while on duty.
7. Leaving his precinct without cause.
8. Any member of the police department who shall neglect to pay any just debt contracted for necessities, either for himself or family, during his connection with the department after being notified that such a claim has been filed against him with the mayor, shall be subject to suspension or dismissal.
9. For immorality, indecency or lewdness.
10. Incompetency, lack of energy and incapacity, mentally or physically.
11. Entering houses of prostitution and assignation, gambling houses or rooms, saloons or sporting houses of any description, or consorting with persons of bad repute while on duty, unless in the discharge of his duty.
12. For conduct subversive of good order or the discipline of the force.
13. Making known any proposed movement of the force, or withholding information on police matters from the sergeants or mayor.
14. For violation of any of seventeen other rules, designated as general.

It is a well known fact that none of the rules of the department have been enforced for years, and some of the policemen say they do not even have a book containing them.

If the rules were enforced against the thirty-seven policemen which the taxpayers of the city are supporting the larger part of the present force would be without jobs, for the members are either guilty of drinking while on duty, sleeping while on duty or withholding information or giving it out to men who are wanted by the department—but not very badly.

JOHN A. BROBST DIED AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

WAS PROMINENT IN BUSINESS
CIRCLES HERE AND OWN-ED MUCH PROPERTY.

John A. Brobst, one of Canton's self-made and public-spirited citizens, died at his home, 245 East Fourth street, at 8:20 o'clock Wednesday evening, after a lingering illness dating back to March 24.

His death was a great loss to the city, for he was one of the best of citizens, and he was one of the best of business men.

Mr. Brobst was born in Rehersburg, Berks county, Pa., on March 9, 1864, and was forty-five years of age. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brobst. His early years were spent in the place where he was born.

In the winter of 1881 he came to Canton, being first employed in the restaurant owned by Philip Wild. After being with Mr. Wild for a number of years he next took a position with the Stark Brewing company's new plant, he being one of the heaviest stockholders and the leading promoter of that establishment.

When the company was merged with the Canton Brewing company, forming the Stark-Brewing company, Mr. Brobst was called upon to take the management of the Stark Brewing company's new plant, he being one of the heaviest stockholders and the leading promoter of that establishment.

Seeing the need of a vaudeville theatre in this city he conceived the idea of erecting the building for the Orpheum theatre, which he owned at the time of his death. He was also owner of the old Conrad Geiger property, corner of Tuscarawas and Piedmont streets, in which Bolender's drug store and the Arcade are located, and also owned the building in which Frank Ungerschied's restaurant is located.

Residing here valuable property in Canton he also owned a large farm near his old home in Berks county, Pa.

The deceased was a stockholder and vice president of the Kauberg Roofing & Ceiling company and was identified with other interests in the city. When he came to this city he entered the services of his employer as a poor boy. He was energetic and honest and by his own business ability he amassed a fortune.

He was married to Miss Ada Spring in July, 1889, but no children were born. His parents are dead. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary J. Snyder of Reading, Pa., James Brobst of Ashfield, Pa., Harry Brobst of Reading, Pa., Charles Brobst of this city, and Frank Brobst, former sheriff of Berks county, Pa.

Funeral will take place from his residence Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, interment being in West-lawn cemetery. The funeral will be under the auspices of the orders to which he belonged.

QUARTER MILLION CLUB OF SPO.
KANE WILL RAISE FUND FOR MISS PRETZ.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 15.—(Sp.)—Pretty Ellen Pretz, creator of Billiken, "God-of-Things-as-They-Ought-to-be," little dreams that the idol she banished from her modest home at Kansas City because he proved an ungrateful wretch to his maker, meaning bringing luck to scores of thousands of worshippers at his shrine, has a pleasant surprise in store for her.

The ridiculous, grinning fetish will bring recognition of a substantial kind for her, if the movement to be launched in Spokane is as successful as its promoters expect it to be.

Arthur W. Jones, secretary of the One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Club of Spokane, which will diabolize to be reorganized as the Quarter Million club on the evening of January 12, is planning a small assessment on the 300 members of the organization. That night, as a nucleus of a Billiken fund.

MORE TROUBLE IN THE NICARAGUAN CAPITAL

BY CABLE TO THE NEWS.
Panama, Dec. 15.—There was more trouble in the streets of Managua, the capital city, last night, when a speech was delivered at a meeting of the aldermen which flayed Madrid, who is proposed for the presidency by the followers of Zelaya.

The speaker was applauded and hissed by the two factions and it was not long before the differences of opinion led to blows.

DOCTORS HAVE LITTLE HOPE FOR KING LEOPOLD

BY CABLE TO THE NEWS.
Brussels, Dec. 15.—The condition of the king fluctuated all day. There seemed to be a marked improvement late tonight but the physicians were unable to build much thereon.

Nobody was admitted to his majesty's bedside during the day, the doctors refusing even to admit Princess Clementine.

MOTHER'S LOVE SAVES A GIRL

Mrs. Jackson Mortgages
Furniture to Help
Her Daughter.

MAKES CHECK GOOD

A mother's love was not strong enough to overcome the infatuation of seventeen-year-old Pauline Jackson Weisenhenker for her husband over twice her age, and a mother's pitiful pleadings amounted to nothing when the young girl who was asked by her mother to leave the husband and come home again.

Mrs. Jackson, the mother of the girl, mortgaged every bit of household furniture to make good a check for $10 which the daughter had forged some weeks ago the girl's funds, with which to make a honeymoon trip.

"Every cent I had I spent to make good that check and pay the lawyer when my daughter's husband was trying to get her to the penitentiary," said the mother Wednesday night. "But she would not come home. No. She went with her husband to Waco and is living with his people."

The mother's grief showed plainly in every word.

Mr. and Mrs. Weisenhenker were arrested upon their return to this city after being married, the result of a runaway match. The police claimed that the couple had forged and cashed a bogus check for $10 at the Larson grocery. The girl took all the blame and said that her husband had nothing to do with it.

They were allowed to go after the mother of the girl had settled with Larson and paid other expenses.

PAID TAXATION, HARMON

Governor Favors Law to Make Rate Fluctuate
With Valuation.

TAXES TO BE LOWER

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Governor Harmon, in an address to more than 1000 of the 2500 real estate appraisers from all over Ohio, who assembled here today, announced that he had adopted a bill to be passed by the legislature next winter which will cause the tax rate to fluctuate inversely with the percentage of the appraisement, to the end that taxpayers will not be compelled to pay more money under the higher valuation than they do now, when the appraisement is about 60 per cent of the real value.

The governor said he expected the valuation to be fixed at something near true value in money, as required by the constitution, declared his belief that the constitution should be followed in that respect.

"Our tax rate is high now for one thing," the governor said, "because of the low appraisement. Many people go elsewhere merely because of this. But with fuller valuations I will guarantee that you will pay less taxes. People will see to it that with this change the corporations and large and wealthy concerns come forward and pay their just proportion of the taxes. That they are not doing this now is well known. If they were compelled to pay what they should, the taxes paid by the common people would be greatly reduced. To this I add Mr. Fullington and I must address ourselves."

SAYS 'TWOULD BE CRUEL TO FIRE COMMISSION

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
Washington, Dec. 15.—Consideration of the bill introduced by Representative Mann of Illinois to abolish the seven-headed isthmian canal commission and substitute for it a director-general to have supreme charge of the digging of the canal and a civil governor to administer the affairs of the canal strip, occupied the attention of the house of representatives most of the afternoon.

Representative Gardner of Michigan, a member of the appropriations committee, defended the commission, declaring that great work had been done under its direction and that it would be "cruel" to disconnect the members from their job. Representative Keifer of Ohio endorsed this view.

SCHOONER GOES DOWN WITH ALL ON BOARD

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
Charleston, S. C., Dec. 15.—News of the loss of the five-masted schooner Governor Ames, laden with cross ties from Brunswick, Ga., for New York with all on board with one exception, was brought to this port tonight by the steamer Shawmut of the Southern Steamship company, which came here from Philadelphia, having on board the sole survivor, John Spearman, a Scotchman.

Spearman was picked up from a raft of cross ties, on which he had been floating for twelve hours by the Shawmut yesterday morning.

NATIONAL SUGAR CO. MUST PAY

President Post Speaks
Frankly About Mess
Company Is In.

COST ABOUT $700,000

Government's Counsel
Have Worked on the Case For Months

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
New York, Dec. 15.—James H. Post, president of the National Sugar Refining company, the $20,000,000 corporation in which the sugar trust holds stock, said today that his concern may have to restore to the United States treasury in satisfaction of duties evaded by fraudulent weighing an amount of money approximately what Arbuckle Brothers have been forced to restore. John Arbuckle and Wm. A. Jamison, his nephew and sole remaining partner, it was learned today have paid the government $255,572.19 to cover what false weighing and dishonesty have cost the customs in the past nine years in dealing with the Arbuckles.

President Post talked freely about the mess his corporation is in with the government. He said that the government's special counsel in customs cases involving underweighing of sugar, Henry L. Stimson and W. T. Denison, have been going over the National's books since last June and they have made a demand upon him and his fellow officials for upwards of $700,000. Mr. Post declined to state the exact sum claimed by the government from the National, because there is to be a conference between the officials of the National and the government's special counsel tomorrow at which the figures may be modified or a more amicable understanding reached. He said that, generally speaking, Mr. Stimson was demanding what John Arbuckle and the Arbuckle concern had been made to restore.

PEOPLE BURNED OUT ARE WITHOUT ANY FUNDS

A fire at an early hour Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cascholdor on Hampden avenue near Harrison, was discovered by Mrs. Cascholdor.

Several little children were asleep in the upper portion of the house. The children were on the roof of a porch in their night clothes, and they were rescued by ladder. A bit of clothing in the house was destroyed and the family was left penniless. Subscriptions are now being raised to assist them.
